last night. The pressure is estimated at 500 nds. The roar of the escaping gas can heard for miles. Oil in great quantities is being thrown from the well. The well when nearly completed showed unusual signs of strong gas pressure, and when the drill struck the sand the drill was thrown entirely out of the casing by the gas. Attempts were made to anchor the well, but in doing so part of the casing was blown out. The well is in the immediate vicinity of other good gas and oil wells. The lease belongs to A. M. Two Good Jay County Wells.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal PORTLAND, Ind., June 11.-Black & Slattery's well, on the Thornhill farm, a mile east of Geneva, was put to pumping yesterday afternoon, and during the afternoon produced twenty barrels. The Eneichen well, in Wabash township, was twenty feet in the sand. A shot was lowered Wednesday morning, and the well straightened. Pay sand was found at twelve feet in the sand, and after a small shot the hole filled up with three hundred feet of oil.

INDIANA OBITUARY.

The fight was the culmination of the bit- Mrs. Margaret Dickerson, a Centenarian of Sullivan County.

She had never used a cooking stove in her home, continuing the use of the old-fashtorney Gray, the Indianapolis and North- loned fireplace for cooking purposes, and had used tobacco since she was sixteen years old. She was a member of the Seventh-day Baptist Church, but observed Saturday as the Sabbath. Being born in a part of Kentucky where witchcraft was generally believed, she continued this superstition throughout her life. She never had a picture taken, and absolutely refused, in all cases, to sit before the camera.

BAD FIRE AT BOSTON.

Factory and Elevator Destroyed, Causing Losses Aggregating $5,000.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. RICHMOND, Ind., June 11.-Boston, Wayne county, was visited by a bad fire late last night. The principal losers were Davis & Stevens, who owned a manufacturing plant, and John F. Sutton, proprietor of the elevator. The plant of Davis & Stevens was only recently erected, and it contained much good machinery. The loss on the building and machinery is $2,000, with no insurance. There were 1,300 bushels of wheat in the elevator, which, with the building, raised the loss there to $3,000. There was $1,000 insurance on the building A freight car belonging to the C., C. & L The origin of the fire is not known. COVINGTON, Ind., June 11.-Seven stores and shops in Perrysville, in Vermilion county, seven miles south of this place, burned this afternoon. The loss was several thousand dollars, with small insurance. There was no fire department, and the bucket brigade was unable to stay the progress of the flames.

JUDGE HARRIS NOT SUED.

Denial of the Report Sent to the Journal from Sullivan.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. SULLIVAN, Ind., June 11.-The telegram in the Journal of to-day from this city stating that suit had been brought against Judge O. B. Harris by C. R. Burkhart, attorney for the International Harvesting Machine Company, to recover money collected by Mr. Harris for the company and diverted by the latter to his own use is untrue. No such suit has been filed.

[The telegram in question did not come from the Journal's regular correspondent. It was sent by a man who is known to the Journal management, and the information was accepted as correct. The Journal regrets that injustice was done Judge Harris, and embraces the earliest opportunity to atone the wrong.-Ed.]

Found Her Mother in Poorhouse. Special to the Indianapolis Journal.

MARION, Ind., June 11 .- After searching for her mother, Mrs. Martin Preston, aged eighty-two, for the past seventeen years, Mrs. J. C. Dickey, wife of a mineowner of Denver, Col., has finally located her in the Grant county poorhouse, where she has been an inmate for the past two years. To-morrow the aged woman will be taken to Denver to make her home with her daughter. Fearing her mother was dead, yet not fully satisfied, Mrs. Dickey never gave up hope, and continued her from Marion to the effect that an old woman named Preston was an inmate of the Grant county infirmary, and might possibly be her mother. Mrs. Dickey at once set out for this city, but the floods delayed her and she did not reach here until this morning. Upon her arrival here she at once proceeded to the infirmary and found her mother.

Elkhart's New Y. M. C. A. Special to the Indianapolis Journal. ELKHART, Ind., June 11.-The building committee of the Y. M. C. A. has awarded to Kistner & Son, of this city, the contract for building the new association headquarters for $18,150. There were three other bids, the highest being $20,450. The committee expected the bids to run close to $25,000. Work will be begun as soon as the contract is prepared by Architect Theo Link, of St. Louis, and is duly signed. The Lake Shore Company gives $10,000 and the rest is to be raised by popular subscription, most of it already assured. W. K. Vanderbilt promises $2,500 for the furnishings. The walls will be of brick and Indiana stone.

Rumored Sale of Company.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. HARTFORD CITY, Ind., June 11 .- The sale of the Co-operative Torpedo Company of Montpelier was reported to the Hartford City stockholders here this evening. The purchaser is the St. Mary's Nitroglycerin Company of St. Mary's, O. While the report of the sale cannot be authenticated the local stockholders say the question of sale had been left to the discretion of the board of directors and it would not be surprise. The consideration is said to have been $60,000.

VERDICT RETURNED IN THE MAL-LORY TRIAL AT LAPORTE.

Jury Out Nineteen Hours-Putnam County Officials Still Investigating the Death of Mrs. Seward.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. LAPORTE, Ind., June 11 .- After being out nineteen hours, the jury which heard the evidence in the Mallory murder case came into court just before noon to-day finding the defendant guilty of murder in the second degree and fixing his punishment at life imprisonment. Sentence was pronounced this afternoon and thirty minutes later Mallory was on his way to State Prison at Michigan City.

Early this morning the jury came into court and asked for further instructions, particularly whether under the law it could in a verdict of guilty of manslaughter fixthe term of imprisonment. The judge read the indeterminate sentence law and then sent the jurymen to their room. The second degree verdict resulted. The question all the time before the jury was the nature of the punishment, one man preventing an agreement for eighteen hours because he thought guilty of manslaughter would be the proper verdict.

STILL SEEKING A CLEW.

Putnam County Officials Investigating Death of Mrs. Seward.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. GREENCASTLE, Ind., June 11 .- The coroner, sheriff and prosecuting attorney are working steadily in the task of determining the murderer of Mrs. Henry Seward, and witnesses are before them every day. The husband of the woman has been before them many times. He has become exeedingly careworn, but his friends say this is due to the awful death of his wife. It is now reported that the instrument used in the killing of Mrs. Seward was a big hammer or the back of a hatchet, and not the club that was found in a thicket near the railroad. The club had blood on it, with several hairs from the woman's head, and it was naturally believed to have been used in the job. It is said now that the wounds on her head, three in number. could not have been put there by a club, that the skin was cut rather than mashed. although the breaking of the bones was evidently done by a flat surface, as they were crushed over a considerable area. If the hammer or hatchet were used the club was cut afterwards and prepared for its part in the possible deception.

Kirkendall's Hearing Postponed. Special to the Indianapolis Journal. ANDERSON, Ind., June 11.-Fred Kirkendall, who assaulted Miss Moore last evening at the Pennsylvania glass works, was arraigned in Police Court to-day, but his preliminary hearing was postponed till next Monday. Miss Moore was unconscious most of the night and much of the time delirious. Dr. Wilson said her case was very serious. To-day she has gained somewhat. The hearing was deferred because of the condition of Miss Moore and the lack of details concerning the affair.

AGAINST THE FARMERS.

Democratic Attitude on Pay of Rural Letter Carriers.

Crawfordsville (Ind.) Journal. The Indianapolis Sentinel, the State organ of the Indiana Democracy, calls rural free delivery "political free delivery." and advocates putting it under the contract system. The Sentinel does not propose that mail be delivered at Indianapolis on the contract system and it would without doubt protest loudly against such a demoralizing innovation in the city postal service. The Sentinel proceeds on the presumption that anything is good enough for the farmers and that it would be wise for the government to pay the men who deliver mail in the country on a starvation basis. Under the star route system there were men carrying the mails in Indiana at a and Latin department; Prof. C. E. They Lay Out the Work for the Next Scholastic Year.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. GREENCASTLE, Ind., June 11.-The work of the board of trustees of De Pauw University for this school year was completed last evening after a most harmonious session. The budget of expenses for next year was settled on the same figures as last year. Two thousand dollars was allowed for repairs on college buildings. All endowment funds were placed in the hands of the Union Surety Company, of Indianapolis, for management and all other sources of income were turned over to the Central Trust Company of this city. The new president, Dr. Edwin Hughes, was given complete control of all matters affecting policies of the university, and all methods of teaching. He was given the right to introduce any ideas which his experience in Eastern schools may have taught him to be advisable. A committee was given authority to secure for him a home, to be owned by the university if bought, but to be furnished at the expense of the university whether bought or rented. It may be necessary to build a house to secure one siutable. The new president was allowed a secretary and bookkeeper. An announcement of to-day was the apcointment of a successor to Miss Mathine Dietrichson in the voice department of the school of music. The new professor is Miss M. Augusta English, of Maine. Miss English comes highly recommended both professionally and personally as a teacher and a singer. She was graduated from the New England Conservatory in 1896 and taught the next two years in the normal training institute of the same institution. Since that time she has had two years of extra study in Europe-at Leipsic and Florence. She is a soprano. The retiring chancellor, Dr. W. H. Hickman, reports $7,000 in gifts to the university not previously mentioned. The heirs of Dr. John Simison have made a gift of $5,000. Dr. Simison was the donor of the Simison Latin library. This last present from the heirs is to be used in equipping the chemistry laboratory.

The early arrivals were met by State Senator Conlogue, of the Sun; Dr. Parker, of the News; H. I. Parks and others, and were given automobile rides over the city. The afternoon session, over which Mr. Medsker, of the Plymouth Democrat, presided, was consumed by the reading of papers by Mr. Jernigan, of Mishawaka, John B. Stoll, of the South Bend Times, and others. Senator Beveridge came in on the Lake Shore train from the Hanna-McCormick wedding and was enthusiastically received. He spoke with much interest to the association and listened attentively to the papers. Mr. Stoll struck the high note of the afternoon in an eloquent plea for more mature thought before permitting the expression of an editorial opinion. He said the mmature thought of unconsidered opinion was the cause of much evil in public life, owing to the power lodged in a free press. His remarks were deeply instructive as well as inspiring by their robust wisdom and pa-

This evening a banquet was given to 175 ette, and others. Senator Beveridge is here to-night and will go to Mudlavia in the

"In the Bouerie."

New York Press. In the death notice of Octavius A. White. M. D., LL. D., on May 28, appeared this: Warsaw; Great Prophetess, Mrs. Mary Relatives and friends are respectfully invited to attend the funeral service, at St. Mark's Church in the Bouerie, Tenth street and Second avenue." This brings up thoughts and speculations. For many years old St. Mark's was called "St. Mark's in the Bowery." The Dutch word is "bouwerij," meaning a farm, from "bouwer," a farmer; hence "bower" and "boor," or boer." Thus we find that our sympathy for the Boers of South Africa rested upon the firm foundation of our Bowery. It is unusual to spell the word "Bouerie," as in River Conference of the Y. P. B. U. closed | the death notice, but there is nothing far-fetched about it. 'Tis Well It's Not in Missouri.

Miss Gannon, Sec'y Detroit' Amateur Art Association, tells young women what to do to avoid pain and suffering caused by female troubles.

I can conscientiously recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to those of my sisters suffering with female weakness and the troubles which so often befall women. I suffered for months with general weakness and felt so weary that I had hard work to keep up. had shooting pains and was utterly miserable. In my distress I was advised to use Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and it was a red letter day to me when I took the first dose, for at that time my restoration began. In six weeks I was a changed woman, perfectly well in every respect. I felt so elated and happy that I want all women who suffer to get well as I did."- MISS GUILA GANNON, 359 Jones St., Detroit, Corresponding Sec'y Mich. It is clearly shown in this young lady's letter that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will surely cure the sufferings of women; and when one considers that Miss Gannon's letter is only one of hundreds which we have, the great virtue of Mrs. Pinkham's medicine must be admitted by all.

THE PRESIDENT'S SENTIMENTS.

a curse to the entire commun I do not like hardness of heart, but neither do I like softness of head The greatest of all things in life is the chance of having a great work to do, and then doing it. This government is not and never will be the government either of a plutocracy or of a mob. In civil life the thoroughly nice, good says how bad the world is, never did any good to any one. More and more we must strive to bring about the day when the successful rasca will be hounded down, as the unsuccessfu rascal is. The appeal to the spirit of arrogant disregard of the rights of those less well off, or the appeal to the spirit of envy and hatred of those better off-either appeal is equally base and equally unamerican. One of the least admirable qualities of any people is the quality sometimes shown by men we know quite well, who tend to delfy mere smartness, as they call it, unaccompanied by any sense of moral responsibility. I pity no man because he has to work. pity with the pity that is akin to contempt the man who, in our country, does not work. Such a man has no true place in our civilization, and I do not care from which end of the social scale he comes. If the boy or girl is turned out from a home in which everything has been made soft, and faithful performance of irksome, of difficult duty not taught, that child i turned out with the certainty that it will be a curse to itself and to all around it, and unable to do its part in our American life. I would preach to no man the doctrine of the easy life. I would preach to every man the life of work for a worthy end; the life of decency, of square dealing, of honest behavior, in the family, among one's neighbor.
